

FOCUSher™

EXCELHERS LEADERS

Month:

Hello -

Congratulations on taking steps to focus on the most important things in your life, career and business. I created the FocusHER™ with busy leaders in mind - to help keep you focused and organized, feel accomplished and set up your days and weeks for success!

The FocusHER™ is divided into three (3) sections: the daily focus, the goal planner and coaching/forum prep. The daily and weekly pages are intentionally designed to transition you from personal reflection, thoughts, and feelings to business tactical items.

I found that when I slow down and start my day with intentionality, I am more focused and positive throughout the day. I encourage you to take 15-20 minutes in a quiet space at the beginning of your day to think about who you choose to be (affirmation statements), express gratitude and appreciation for those who mean the most to you and determining how you want to show up each day.

Studies have shown that the most important part of your day is the last hour of the day, not the first. That is why I created the daily and weekly pages to finalize the day and week by setting your next day up for success. Spend the last 30 minutes of each day and week finishing up a few quick tasks that make you feel accomplished and set your commitments and goals for the next day.

Goal planning is important for our companies, AND our personal and professional development. The goal planning section is divided into two categories, company and personal, for this reason. Schedule a clarity break to be intentional about thinking about the details of your goal and what it will take to accomplish it, what obstacles could get in the way, and setting milestones to ensure you know if you are on track to complete the goal in your established timeframe.

Lastly, when I first started working with a coach, I wasn't sure what was appropriate to bring up to my coach or how to prepare to get the most out of my sessions. I encourage you to prepare for your coaching and forum sessions in advance. Prioritize your development by taking 20-30 minutes and review the meeting agenda.

Are you ready to discuss your commitment completion, check in and your discussion topics?

Again, congratulations on your commitment to focus and become intentional with yourself and your day.

Love,

Kristie Clayton

Daily Focus Page

INSTRUCTIONS: Begin your day by completing each section.

I AM: As you write your affirmation statements, focus on one - what does it mean to you and why it is significant to who you choose to be. Throughout the day, reflect on this affirmation and be aware of ways you are showing up in this way.

Makes me (=): The second part of this section is reflecting on the impact that your affirmation statements have on you today. For example: I am bold, enough, worthy makes me UNSTOPPABLE, CONFIDENT, etc. Although affirmation statements stay the same, the "makes me" can change frequently, even daily.

Who are you grateful for? List 3 people you are grateful for and why. Call, text or send them a card showing your appreciation and share something SPECIFIC with them that made an impact on you.

Reflect/Meditate and Journal: Reflect and/or meditate on the daily statement and journal your thoughts around the topic or anything else that is on your mind.

Top 5 Commitments: Write down the 5 most important things that must be accomplished before you end your day.

Additional Tasks: Enter any additional tasks that need to be accomplished in the upcoming days.

Important Meetings: Notate important meetings.

Weekly Wrap-up

INSTRUCTIONS: End each week by asking yourself these important questions and notate your answers.

What did I learn this week?

Take a moment to think about what lessons you learned this week. Did you attend a workshop, conference, etc.? Did a challenging situation, task or conversation allow you an opportunity for growth?

What is my biggest success this week and how am I going to celebrate it?

- › As leaders, we often move at such a fast pace that we forget to slow down and acknowledge our successes. What success did you, your team, your company, your family achieve this week? How are you going to celebrate the successes?
- › Consider a handwritten note or a high five to team members, a special dinner with family, a nice glass of wine, a relaxing hot bath or pedicure, etc. Get creative, have fun!

What are you proud of yourself for?

What is something you are proud of yourself for - not your family, team or company - YOU! Be specific and take time to acknowledge what this achievement means to you.

What 3 things do I need to wrap up to finish the week strong?

What tasks need to be finished so you can close out the week strong and set the following week up for success?

Coaching/Forum Prep

INSTRUCTIONS: Prepare ahead of time to get the most out of your coaching and/or forum sessions.

Preparation

Accountability: Did you complete all your commitments (tasks) from the previous session? If not, what do you need to do before the next session?

Check In: On a scale of 1-10, where is your head and heart? Status update: Did you complete your commitments (tasks)? Are your goals on track? Are there any updates on a topic that you brought up last session?

Discussion: What topic are you bringing to the session? If you are stuck on what topic to bring, a few questions to ask yourself in advance include:

- › What are my current opportunities or challenges?
- › Where do I feel stuck and need support?
- › What's not working in my life, career or business?
- › What is keeping me from my commitments?
- › Do I need to be held accountable for accomplishing a task or goal? If so, what is it?

Notes

Capture your thoughts during your session. Notate any commitments you are making to your coach or forum members.

Reflections/Commitments

Set aside time to reflect and organize your thoughts. Notate any commitments and add them to your daily commitments to ensure you get them done before your next session.
